Acknowledgements

This compilation of the Judkins Family History has been undertaken because there appeared to be a dearth of printed data in any connected outline.

Grateful acknowledgement is made to Edith Judkins and her late father Leonard of Utica, N.Y. for their excellent, accurate manuscript, to the late Ernest Judkins of Scotia, N.Y. and to the late Loren Webber Judkins of Fairfield, Me. for additional chart and manuscript material.

I am deeply indebted to Etta Dahl, a Judkins descendant, for her untiring search of the Salt Lake City Genealogical Library records, and for her helpful criticism; and to George Howard Judkins for his painstaking examination of Oxford County, Me. probate and town records, and for his many personal and written contacts with descendants of several branches.

I am happy to thank Judkins descendants Dean Charles Stearns of Tufts University, Marion Tidmarsh of Whitewater, Wis., R.Shirley Stinson of Stonington, Me., Harry Mudgett of Belmont, N.H., and Edgar Judkins of Dixfield, Me. and his cousin Edith Judkins of Van Nuys, Cal. for working up their branches in great detail and depth.

I am appreciative of the friendly encouragement and criticism of Professor Edgar Lyle Owen of Tulsa University, and of the keen professional help and advice of Alice Thompson of Concord, N.H.

The kindness of many others in furnishing me their family data has made this genealogy a more complete one.

Job Judkins of Boston and His Descendants

The first record found of Job Judkins is in Boston, Mass. in 1637, where he was a sawyer and a property owner (Pioneers of Massachusetts by Pope). Family tradition has it that he and two brothers emigrated from Scotland. Loren Judkins, a descendant, has stated that Job was born in West Glasgow, Scotland in 1606, the son of Joel born 9 Aug.1579, and grandson of Samuel born 10 May 1556, and that he came to Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1628, having married Sarah Dudley. No records have been found thus far to confirm this.

Drake, in his "History and Antiquities of Boston, 1630-1770" states that on 27 Sept.1641 Job was granted a lot for five heads at the Mount "als" Braintry. Appendix 1, containing the Book of Possessions of the Town of Boston, 1653-54, records: "Job Judkins - house and garden, Robert Hull, s.; Elizabeth Purton, n.; the street, w.; Gamiel Waite, e.". This property, which old Boston maps show was owned by Job as early as 1639, marked lot 96, faced the High Street, now Washington Street, and was the second lot from the left from the present Summer Street. It is now occupied by the Jordan Marsh store. In 1666 his property still bounded that of Robert Hull on the north (15 N.E.Hist.and Gen.Reg.323).

The 1650-52 inventory of the estate of Robert Button included a debt received from Job (8 Reg.59). An inventory dated 1657-59 of the debts to Stebbins, a victualler, listed Job "of Suffolk County" (32 Reg.319), and the 1659-60 inventory of the estate of M.Munnings in Dorchester, Mass. included a debt to Job (10 Reg.177).

Thomas Judkins of Gloucester, Mass., who married 25 Nov.1665 widow Anna Howard and died 23 Feb.1695 ae 66 yrs (Gloucester VR and Savage's Gen. Dict.), is probably not of the same family. The name is not found in the descendants of Job at this period. Thomas undoubtedly came from the English Northamptonshire family in which the four ancestors directly preceding Thomas Judkins of Heyford, born about 1600, bore this name (Metcalfe's Visitations of Northamptonshire).

Job married Sarah ---. She joined the First Church of Boston 8 Aug. 1641 and died 26 Nov.1657 (9 Boston Rec.Comm.Report 61). No record has been found of Job's death, probably after 1666.

A Job Judkins died in Exeter in 1789, administration being granted to his son Job of Meredith (Rockingham County Probate Reg.). The latter died, however, about 1808, with living brothers and sisters Ebenezer, Mercy, Sarah, John, Robert, Elizabeth, Joseph and Jonathan (Hillsborough County Reg.Deeds). No birth records are available. Although their father was probably a Job Judkins born later than 1703, it may have been he.

He and his brother Benjamin were granted 100 acres and water rights in Kingston, settled in 1694, if they would dam the Little River, erect and run a grist and saw mill (R.D.Sawyer-early records). Mills on these sites are still in existance, and the grist mill was owned by the direct descendants of Samuel until 1942. It is possible that this Samuel[4] or a son of the same name removed to Readfield, Me., had children Elisha, Richard and Nancy, b. in 1785, 1787, and 1792, respectively, and d. after 1798 (Readfield VR); these male names are not found among the early Judkins except in this branch.
